About the Choir

Pasión is a professional chorus that unites singers from the Rio Grande Valley with those from across the United States, all under the direction of Dr. Eric Posada. These choristers represent music-making and friendships from different stages of Posada's life. The bond they collectively share with Dr. Posada and each other is truly palpable, special, spiritual, and emotionally charged.

On June 22, 2017 Pasión presented its inaugural concert "Noche de Lluvia" in McAllen, TX. The concert weekend was received by three thunderous standing ovations and a tangible outpouring of love, support, and anticipation from the community. Additionally, the choir gave the Concert World Premiere of and recorded renowned American composer Michael John Trotta's A Light Shines in the Darkness. Two singles from the album were released on iTunes during the months of October and November 2017 while the complete album will be available in January 2018.
